Title of Session “I’ve Done a PATH – Now What?”
PATH Training Follow-Up

Description PATH is a process to address the needs of a student from a holistic perspective taking into consideration the many inter-related areas of his/her life in the school, community and at home. It is a creative tool to help students, families and schools create a more positive and possible future.

This follow-up training will provide an opportunity for more in-depth discussion on how to use PATH effectively for transition planning. Participants will learn and share strategies for reviewing, trouble shooting, and monitoring how a PATH “action plan” can be effectively implemented and followed up on over time. There will also be an opportunity to discuss how to connect with community support groups.

(Includes discussion with Adam Kaplan, “The Boy Inside” in the afternoon.)
